Headquarters - u/i Division - Delen Chiflik

2. Attachment No. 1 is a sketch of an Army camp located about 200 meters west-southwest of the Delen Chiflik railroad station. In the summer of 1955 this camp housed the headquarters of an unidentified Division. [redacted] it was rumored that the camp was to become an Army headquarters. The camp commander was a General (name and rank unknown). The general's car was a Soviet made Pebeda with civilian tags from Varna.

3. In addition to headquarters personnel, troops stationed at the camp included an infantry unit of approximately regiment size, a supply unit and medical personnel who manned a hospital located at the camp. The infantry unit had its own artillery, anti-aircraft artillery, engineers, communications, and chemical warfare personnel. Most of the troops of these units were quartered in barracks Nos. 12 and 13 on the sketch. The camp hospital was equipped with x-ray machines and dental equipment. The supply unit had a storehouse containing a huge quantity of clothing.
